THE TOP 5 NEW RESIDENTIAL DEVELOPMENTS IN ST. LOUIS

By Nancy Curtis

Whether you want to live in a downtown loft or a 3,000-square-foot home in the suburbs, check out these five new, highly anticipated residential developments that are getting some buzz.

CORTONA AT FOREST PARK

This new one- to two-bedroom, 276-unit apartment community is set to open later this month. Located south of Forest Park between Dogtown and The Grove, the Cortona apartments range from a 575-square-foot studio to a 1,299-square-foot two-bedroom apartment. The community includes reserved parking, gated entrance, electronic door entry, self-service pet spa, and dog park. The ground also include a three-tiered pool with pool cabanas, outdoor grills, fitness center and classes, business center, and self-service Starbucks coffee bar.
